M'CUTCHEON AUTO HIT IT UP TO AVOID POLICE.

Woman Told Pursuers to "Stop Kidding," but All Were Taken to the Station-House.

J. S. McCutcheon, well-known Irish linen importer, who has just bought a new forty-five horsepower touring car, went out to Coney Island last night with a party of friends. They started back early to-day. At the Coney Island Creek and Ocean Boulevard the chauffeur, Patrick Fogarty, put on the power. The machine was going along at a fast clip when it was overhauled by Policemen McDonald and Ennis on their motor cycles. The policemen called to the party to stop at which one of the women told them to "stop their kidding." Then she told the chauffeur to "hit her up." For two miles the chase was a merry one. The police have attached to their motorcycles small speed indicators with a day electric light, so that they can estimate the pace of an auto by merely trailing it. They say the big machine struck a forty-mile-an-hour gait part of the way.

This did not bother them, as their own machines are capable of sixty miles an hour. They overhauled the party and took them back to the Coney Island police station, where the chauffeur was locked up.

In the Coney Island Police Court to-day Fogarty was held in $500 bail for further examination to-morrow. One of the male members of the party was in court with a thousand dollars worth of checks and a one dollar bill. The checks were no good for bail, and Fogarty was again locked up.

A WOMAN HIS CHAMPION.

BOSTON, May 21.—Through the untiring efforts of Miss Miriam E. Benjamin, of Boston, a clerk in one of the departments here, 25c has been awarded Samuel Lee, a negro, who was elected to Congress twenty-five years ago, but never sworn in. Lee contested the seat of a white man named Richardson, from South Carolina. He won, but just as he raised his hand to be sworn in, the clerk over the speaker's chair pointed to the hour of 12, and Congress, under the law, was dissolved.
